Fund Review

MSCI Golden Dragon posted a low single digit positive return, more or less in line with regional indices, while the A-share market tracked sideways. In Taiwan, the market continued the rebound despite mixed expectations around 2H23 demand recovery.

Outlook & Strategy

In the Mainland, the conservative 2023 GDP target of about 5% given by the National People's Congress, and new Premier's de-emphasis of the growth target, reduce the likelihood of a major stimulus programme for China. We expect the government will gradually dial back support as recovery becomes more self-sustaining, resulting in a lower incremental boost.

For the fund performance, our exposure in Financials and Materials added value.

Fund Performance

The fund's net asset value increased 2.88% from last month.

The assets of Greater China Equity Fund are invested exclusively into the JPMorgan SAR Greater China Fund.
